

MODEL WORDINGS LIBRARY

Created by the Market, for the Market. With a pedigree dating back to 1994 and content in excess of 18,300 items, the Model Wordings Library (MWL) remains a leading source of approved wordings and associated documents in the London market.

WHAT IT IS

MWL is a web based electronic library comprising over 18,300 wordings, clauses, policy forms and schedules in the London insurance market. It is a dynamic entity and continues to grow with the input of users.

Key Features:

- secure, centralised database
- flexible, customer-centric security model
- online access 24/7
- several European languages
- wordings helpline
- regular newsletter
- access via an annual licence or a pay-per-use basis.

The service enjoys a high degree of customer loyalty as a wide-ranging source of London market insurance documentation. MWL is used by a wide range of insurance and associated specialists and has over 1,000 customers worldwide.

HOW IT HELPS

The service strives to mirror the versatility and flexibility of the London market by giving customers, whether large or small, the tools that they need to do business efficiently.

MWL is flexible enough to restrict access, by business entity or individual user, to specific new content. By giving selective viewing rights to private wordings and clauses, business growth can be enhanced.

With the ability to download individual wordings and clauses or combine a number of wordings and clauses into one document, the MWL is an invaluable tool, whether for researching individual wordings or complete policy preparation.

HOW IT WORKS

Content

- library updated daily
- includes LMA registered wordings
- content supports the production of cover notes, certificates, policies and other insuring documentation with a consistent high standard of layout and format
- documents are held in Word® Rich Text format and can be downloaded locally for saving and printing
- large bank of historical wordings
- encourages standardisation and offers economies of scale over traditional wordings production
- access to ancillary information relating to the use and history of the wording, as well as cross-referenced associated wordings, clauses and other associated documentation
- secure storage of data
- wordings in a number of European languages.

Search

- powerful, fast search engine with advanced functionality
- search on reference number, title and full text of wordings and clauses.

Access

- available 24/7
- web based with multiple users allowed per customer
- flexible, user-defined security model supporting upload and viewing of private, public and restricted access for both new and legacy wordings
- dial-a-wording: ad-hoc wordings service
- access to our unique wordings helpline to support queries and provide advice
- access to a regular newsletter which provides information on new content/ updates.
